Retirement time for head of jr. tour

Gary Brennan steps aside and Tim Vandolder takes over as tour coordinator

It's fitting that Tim Vandolder is taking over as the coordinator of the Grey Bruce Junior Golf Tour. After all, the tour was founded 30 years ago to give him a chance to play competitive junior golf locally.

Tour founder Ken Smale was friends with Tim's family and saw Tim's devotion to the game and decided to set up the tour.

Tim went on to a successful amateur career, winning club championships at The Georgian Bay Club near Thornbury and competing in provincial championships.

Brennan was involved in the junior tour from the start and took over as coordinator in 1995. For him, the time has come to hand over leadership to someone else. He will remain involved in some aspects of the tour but the coordinator's job will fully belong to Vandolder.

Green wins overall title

Winning the Grey Bruce Junior Tour's Juvenile division with 244 points and the overall title was Haiden Green of The Georgian Bay Club (GBC). He had the best stroke average (78) on the tour this season. Evan Graham of Ainsdale/Blackhorse was 2nd in the Juvenile division with 241.5 points.

Pike Lake's Parker Coffey took the junior division with 247 points. Cobble Beach's Leighton Hurst was close behind with 246 points.

In the Girls division, Avery Andrews of Pike Lake narrowly won over Ella Shaw, also of Pike Lake, with 248 points to Shaw's 247.

In the Bantam division, GBC's Grady Gouett took the title with 248.5 points. Second was Brendan Lamont of Westlinks with 245 pts.

The awards were handed out at the Aug. 28 closing banquet at Ainsdale Golf Course.

Junior tour coordinator Gary Brennan is stepping down after 30 years and handing over the reins to former tour player Tim Vandolder (left).

Welcome to the Summer/Fall edition! It's packed with lots of news, including club championship results, and some features that I think you'll find interesting.

One of those features is about Saugeen Golf Club General Manager Brad Young playing golf with legendary rocker Alice Cooper.

What prompted the story was a recent "Memories" Facebook post showing Brad with Alice.

When I saw it, I knew I had to dig for more details. How did this come to be? What was it like to play golf with Alice?

I had a particular interest in this because Alice was my first musical influence. My much-cooler cousins from Brampton introduced me to the rocker and I recall many days with my head pressed up against the speaker in my family's stereo system listening to his early albums.

Years later I thought it would be amazing if I could somehow arrange to play golf with Alice and write about the experience. That's not likely to happen but Brad did it instead. So I took the opportunity to write about his experience. Check it out on Pages 4-5.

Corey Conners is a bit of rock star as well - at least in terms of his golf skills on the PGA Tour. So when he made a surprise visit to Pike Lake I had to find out more. See story Pages 20-21.

Enjoy this edition and follow me on social media for golf coverage for the remainder of the season.

Saugeen GC General Manager Brad Young got a chance to play with the legendary musician in Winnipeg

By Steve Harron
Golf BruceGreySimcoe

Saugeen Golf Club General Manager Brad Young has played a lot of golf over the years but one round in particular stands out for him.

It was the day he got to play with the legendary rock star Alice Cooper.

"Overall, it was one of the most enjoyable and coolest 9 holes of golf I've ever played," he said during a recent interview.

The experience came back in August of 2015 when Young was working as a pro and director of golf at Portage Golf Club, which is a 45-minute drive from Winnipeg.

Alice is affiliated with Callaway Golf and Young was approached about playing with Alice by Lee Hummell, a Callaway Golf representative.

He jumped at the chance even though it was scheduled for a day after one of the biggest events at his own club which required him to work a stretch of 18-hour days.

What made the day special was how friendly and kind Alice was during their round, which took place at Glendale Golf and Country Club in Winnipeg.

Alice was so accommodating and kept asking if Young would like anything signed or would like a photo with him.

And he was incredibly open about his addiction issues and how golf had replaced his previous addiction to booze and pills.

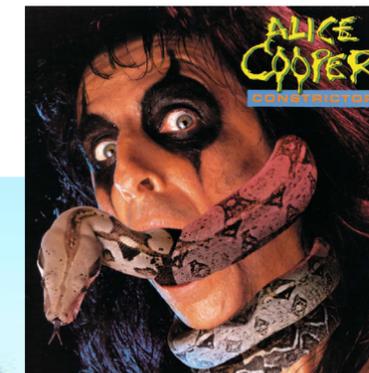

He shared with Young how he golfs at least 9 holes every day and that has helped him not only stay sober but also become a low-handicapper.

Alice (his legal name) also shared golf stories including the time he scored an ace on the famous party hole - the par 3 16th hole during a Pro-Am at the Waste Mangement Open in Scottsdale, Arizona.

Young's day with the rocker also included VIP passes to a show that night featuring both Alice and Motley Crue, Young's favourite band during his younger years.

Young was able to go backstage to see Alice after the show but unfortunately didn't get a chance to talk to members of Motley Crue.

While Young was impressed with Alice's golfing skills (he thinks he shot 1 or 2 over par over 9 holes) he was awed by his energy on stage. "I couldn't get over how hard he still rocked."

Peter Mahovlich

Former NHL star talks about golf during a brief interview at the Crime Stoppers of Grey Bruce fundraising golf tournament

Q: Where are you living now?

A: I'm in Sorrento, Florida near Sanford - about 45 miles north of Orlando. I'm in a golf community called Red Tail. I was in Glen Falls, New York for 45 years before that. I moved down and I'm enjoying the weather there.

Q: How many times a week do you play golf?

A: I'm playing about three times a week now. I've had a lot of surgeries over the last few years so it's been difficult. It has been hard to play through the pain but now I'm pain free for the first time in 25 years and have started playing three or four times a week.

Q: Can you tell me a little more about your surgeries?

A: I had my left hip done about four years ago. My left knee was replaced and both shoulders were done at the start of last summer. It was more of an arthritic thing. Wear and tear and bone spurs.

Quick Facts

- Peter Mahovlich was drafted 2nd overall by the Detroit Red Wings in 1963 and went on to a 16-season NHL career that saw him win four Stanley Cups with the Montreal Canadiens.
- The 6' 5" centreman collected 773 points in his career
- After his playing career ended, he worked as a scout for the Florida Panthers
- One of his favourite golf memories was meeting the legendary golfer Ben Hogan in Fort Worth, Texas while playing a round with his brother Frank, who was a big Hogan fan.

The day Corey surprised juniors at Pike Lake

Pike Lake Golf Centre Head professional Greg Shaw was sitting at his desk working on some emails when he heard someone ask where the club's junior camp was being held.

When he got up to see who it was he was completely surprised to see two-time PGA Tour winner Corey Conners and his dad Mike in the golf shop.

"It was a complete surprise. I had no clue he was coming," Shaw said about the July 4 visit.

He took Corey and his dad to the range and surprised his junior camp instructors, who were in awe of Corey.

Corey proceeded to lead a 45-minute clinic which included him hitting a variety of shots at the request of the camp participants.

And every time they picked out a target, Corey would hit it, Shaw said.

That's no surprise as Corey is consistently one of the best ball strikers on the PGA Tour.

"His swing is so smooth and effortless. It was amazing," said Shaw. He made a massive impression on the junior camp participants and spent about 1 ½ in total at the course, Shaw said.

It's unclear how this all came about but Shaw said some of the junior camp participants were from Corey's hometown of Listowel, which is less than 30 minutes from Pike Lake, and Corey's dad follows Pike Lake on Facebook and found out about the junior camps that way.

And the senior Conners has known Herb Cowen, one of the Pike Lake owners, for many years.

Regardless of how it happened, it was definitely a memorable experience for all those involved.

"It was super cool and created a real buzz for our junior camps," Shaw said.

Kincardine champs

DID YOU KNOW? CHANGES AT NOTTAWASAGA

The Nottawasaga Resort in Alliston underwent several modifications this season. The resort updated the course configuration to offer 36 holes of golf with the advantage of one central Nottawasaga Pro Shop that will serve golfers as the start and finish point of their rounds.

They took the best holes of the Ridge and Briar Hill courses, with their varied elevations, and combined them into a challenging 18-hole course. The Ridge Course name remains the same. The second 18-hole course, the Valley, is a combination of the existing Valley and Green Briar holes.
